ArborBrook Vineyards is a family-owned, boutique producer of hand-crafted Pinot Noirs, Pinot Gris, Sauvignon Blanc, and our Sauternes-style Semillon late harvest dessert wine.

As with most red wines, Pinot Noir is capable of aging. The bottle aging process allows for the wine to settle into itself, which is demonstrated by the softening of tannins and integration of flavor profiles. Generally speaking, each year of bottle age will deepen the wine, making it softer in the mouthfeel, and more integrated in the flavor profiles. We have developed this chart for those who are interested in maintaining an aging library of ArborBrook wines.

One item of note: All palates are different. Some palates will find younger wines, which tend to be more fruit forward, more pleasing, while other palates find older, more integrated, darker wines more pleasurable. When reviewing this aging chart, please keep that in mind, based on your own personal preferences. We hope you enjoy the wines.

Cellaring Recommendations:

Temperature range: 45° to 55°

Serving temperature: Pinot Gris or Sauvignon Blanc 45° and Pinot Noir 60°

Humidity range: 60 to 70% and a dark place with no light is recommended
